Choices for Living (Choices) is a resource to help older adults and their families explore the many housing options available in Marin County. Individuals’ housing needs vary greatly, and needs may change over time. The process of exploring housing options can be very confusing. We urge anyone considering a housing change to be as clear as possible about the lifestyle and location they seek, their current health and level of independence, and the financial means by which they will support their housing needs. Choices begins with information on care at home, housing assistance and independent living options, and progresses to assisted living, board and care facilities and skilled nursing facilities. Often, waiting lists are encountered when obtaining housing in Marin County; we urge you to place your name on these lists if applications are being accepted.

The Marin County Health & Human Services, Aging and Adult Services office provides the following resources for older adults and persons with disabilities.

Marin County lies north of the City and County of San Francisco, across the Golden Gate Bridge. U.S. Highway 101 extends in a north-south direction through the county’s urban corridor. The county covers 529 square miles and much of the land outside the 101 urban corridor is open space. The County’s older adult population is increasing at a rate that surpasses the national rate. Marin residents age 60 and above total 64,037, which represents 25% of the total population. At 45 years, Marin’s median age is the oldest in the Bay Area and the 14th oldest in California.

Various agencies in Marin County provide services in people’s homes so that those with chronic health conditions or are recovering from illnesses get the support they need to remain living as independently as possible. This section features agencies that provide an array of services to care for individuals at home as well as community enrichment programs for older adults. Services include social and recreational activities, training, counseling, and home health services. Meal services in congregate dining settings and Brown Bag/pantry programs support the nutritional health needs of individuals while providing them with opportunities to socialize.
Home care agencies offer non-medical or custodial, companion and personal care that ranges from shopping and transportation to assistance with activities of daily living. Caregivers may be companions, certified home health aides or certified nursing assistants. Home care agencies are the employer of record and cover worker’s compensation and liability insurance.

Home care referral agencies place or refer caregivers who provide non-medical or custodial, companion and personal care. Caregivers may be companions, certified home health aides or certified nursing assistants. Caregivers are generally independent contractors, not agency employees.

Home care registries provide a listing of independent home care professionals. Clients hire caregivers directly from the list.

Medicare-certified/licensed home health care agencies provide home health services for persons who have a medical need and physician’s order for service.

In-Home Supportive Services Public Authority

☎ (415) 499-1024

Serves low-income older adults and persons with disabilities who qualify for In-Home Supportive Services by matching clients with care providers so that they remain independent and safe in their own homes. Eligibility requirements apply.

Marin Villages

☎ (415) 457-4633

www.marinvillages.org

Enables individuals to remain in their homes and maintain an active life by providing support through a variety of resources. Marin Villages is part of a nationwide movement and is an alliance of local villages established by geographic area to build community through social and educational events, delivery of volunteer assistance and individual aid in accessing vetted help and services. Local villages in Marin include Homestead, Mill Valley, Ross Valley, Tiburon, North San Rafael, and Novato.

Tips When Hiring a Caregiver

- Be clear and specific up front with what you need in terms of services and hours per week
- Be open to applicants who may be from a different ethnic background than you
- Look for skills and experience but also for personality fit
- Discuss allergies/diets/medication schedule and any other special needs
- Go over what should be done in an emergency and share contact information
- Keep lines of communication open to avoid misunderstanding
Day Services & Activities

Public & Low to Middle Income Housing

Marin Housing Authority
4020 Civic Center Dr., San Rafael
☎ (415) 491-2525

Provides a variety of housing assistance programs to low and middle-income residents of Marin. Marin Housing owns and manages low-cost rental units and provides direct rental subsidies and low-interest home improvement loans to qualifying households. Wait times vary for services. Open Monday–Friday 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Marin Housing Authority programs include:

Section 8 Program
☎ (415) 491-2525
A federally financed program that provides direct rental assistance in the private market for low-income families, seniors and the disabled. Once applicants receive a voucher, they pay 30% of their total household income for rent, and the subsidy covers the rest. After getting on the waiting list, applicants should expect to wait up to 5 years. Prospective tenants select their own apartment, enter into an agreement with the landlord, and secure the approval of the unit from Marin Housing.

Shelter Plus Care
☎ (415) 491-2586
This program provides rental assistance and supportive services to homeless individuals and families where the head of household has a serious mental illness. Shelter Plus Care participants lease privately-owned apartments and pay 30% of their income towards rent. Participants receive support services from caseworkers and community-based service providers in collaboration with the Marin County Community Mental Health Services.

Public Housing

LONG-TERM CARE FACILITIES

Long-Term Care is defined as a range of services and supports to meet the personal care needs of persons with limited functioning or have disabilities. Long-term care facilities are entities that provide rehabilitative, restorative, and/or ongoing skilled nursing care to patients and residents in need of assistance in performing the activities essential to daily functioning. Long-term care facilities in Marin County include assisted living, board and care homes, continuing care retirement communities, and skilled-nursing or convalescent homes. The following section explains the differences between these facilities and lists what is available in the county.

Resident Rights in a Skilled Nursing Facility
What to Look for in a Skilled Nursing Facility
Residential Care Facilities for the Elderly (RCFE), also known as “assisted living” or “board and care” homes range from small individually-owned and operated six-bed facilities to large multi-hundred unit complexes. Both provide room, meals, housekeeping, and personal care services. They are licensed by the state Department of Social Services’ Community Care Licensing. There may be an initial entrance fee. Monthly fees range from $3000 to $7000. Medi-Cal does not pay for residential care. Continuing Care Retirement Communities

A Continuing Care Retirement Community (CCRC) is a setting that offers independent living through assisted living and nursing home care, all in one place. Generally, a CCRC will expect an older adult to move in when they are still healthy enough to live independently. As residents age and their needs change they can get a greater level of care without having to uproot. They can also stay within the community and receive short-term nursing care if needed due to an illness, then move back to independent or assisted living once they recover. Complaints not resolved by the facility may be referred to the Marin County Long-Term Care Ombudsman Program at (415) 473-7446.

Resident Rights in a Skilled Nursing Facility

As a nursing home resident, you may exercise the following rights:

Visits Privacy Confidentiality

- Visits with family and friends.
- Contact and meet with agency representatives or individuals who provide health, legal, social or other services.
- Privacy during your visits or meetings, in making telephone calls, and with your mail.
- Privacy in your room and during bathing, medical treatment, and personal care.
- Keep your personal and health records confidential.

Quality of life in a Nursing Home

- Choose and participate in activities which you like and which are part of your plan of care.
- Participate in social, religious, and community activities.
- Register and vote in local, state and national elections.
- Voice complaints or grievances without fear or retaliation. The nursing home must give you information about how to file a complaint with the facility, the Ombudsman, and with the Department of Health Services’ Licensing and Certification Office.
- Organize and participate in resident groups, and your family has the right to organize and participate in family groups in the nursing home.

Living Accommodations and Care

- Express preferences with respect to your room and roommate and be advised before any changes are made.
- A safe, clean and comfortable home-like environment.
- Receive care in a manner which promotes and enhances your quality of life. This includes food of the quantity and quality to meet your needs and preferences.
- Services necessary to attain or maintain your highest practicable level of functioning.
Protect Your Money and Possessions

✓ Manage your own financial affairs, or you may have the nursing home manage your personal money in accordance with specific requirements, which include periodic accounting records.
✓ Reasonable security of clothing and personal property. The nursing home must have a program to reduce theft and loss and maintain an inventory of your clothing and other personal property.

Medical Care and Treatment

✓ Participate in designing your own plan of care/treatment.
✓ Choose your personal doctor.
✓ Refuse any plan of care, treatment or procedure.
✓ Make advance directives for treatment such as power of attorney for health care or other instructions about health care decisions.

Freedom from Restraint and Abuse

✓ Refuse any bonds which limit your mobility or drugs that affect your mind, except in emergency situations. Any use of such restraints must be used to treat medical symptoms and not for the purpose of discipline or staff convenience.
✓ Be free from verbal, physical, sexual, and mental abuse; corporal punishment, neglect; and involuntary seclusion.

Transfer and Discharge Rights

✓ Be notified in writing before your transfer or discharge from the nursing home.
✓ Appeal any transfer or discharge decision to the Licensing and Certification Office.
✓ Return to the nursing home after a short-term transfer to a hospital or after a therapeutic leave from the facility. (The nursing home must explain to you their policy about bed holds and your rights to return to the facility.)

We are here for you.

The Marin County Commission on Aging is a 23 member council educating and advocating on behalf of Marin’s older adults. We work closely with Marin County Aging and Adult Services and advise the Marin County Board of Supervisors on how we can all live long and live well in Marin.

Commissioners are appointed by either the Board of Supervisors or the 11 incorporated Cities and Towns in Marin. In addition, Marin County’s representatives of the California Senior Legislature (CSL) also serve as ex-officio members.

We provide advocacy, answers, and action.
Protecting the health, wellbeing, and safety of Marin residents is very important. This section provides an array of services to protect Marin residents and their loved ones from abuse and neglect. You will also find useful websites and tools to become a more informed consumer and be connected to the wealth of resources Marin has to offer.

ADVOCATING FOR RESIDENTS

Whether living in the community independently or residing in a facility, advocacy groups at both the local and state-level are available to ensure the safety, security, and well-being of Marin residents. Described below are the various agencies that can work with residents, families and other caregivers, and responsible parties to protect older adults and persons with disabilities living in our community.

Adult Protective Services

Adult Protective Services (APS) is a social services program serving older persons age 65 and over and dependent adults with disabilities in the community who are in need of assistance because of abuse, neglect, self-neglect or financial exploitation. APS is charged with receiving and responding to reports of maltreatment and working closely with clients and a wide variety of allied professionals to maximize clients’ safety and independence. Contact the Marin County Adult Protective Services at (415) 473-2774 if you or someone you know is at risk and needs assistance.

The Long-Term Care Ombudsman Program

The California State Long-Term Care Ombudsman Program is authorized by the federal Older Americans Act. The primary responsibility of the program is to investigate and endeavor to resolve complaints made by, or on behalf of, individual residents in long-term care facilities. These facilities include nursing homes (SNFs) and residential care facilities for the elderly (RCFEs).

The goal is to advocate for the rights of all residents of long-term care facilities. The advocacy role takes two forms: 1) to receive and resolve individuals complaints and issues, and 2) to pursue resident advocacy in the long-term care system, its laws, policies, regulations and administration through public education and consensus building.

Residents can file a complaint directly with the Marin County Long-Term Care Ombudsman Program at (415) 473-7446 or by calling the State CRISISline at 1(800) 231-4024. The CRISISline is available 24 hours a day, 7 days of week to take calls and refer complaints from residents.

Ombudsman services are free and confidential. Contact the Marin LTC Ombudsman Program for the following services:

✓ Questions about quality of care
✓ Questions or concerns about financial abuse
✓ Suspected physical, mental or emotional abuse of residents
✓ Witnessing services for Advance Health Care Directives (SNFs)
✓ Requesting an Ombudsman to attend a resident care plan meeting
✓ Requesting an Ombudsman to attend a resident or family council meeting
The Department of Social Services has developed a new website with information about Residential Care Facilities for the Elderly (RCFE’s) throughout California. The facility search website provides the public with data regarding facilities licensed by Community Care Licensing (CCL). It contains five years of information including complaint investigations completed, details about citations and visits and inspections made by CCL, and a map that identifies the location of the facility. The website is: http://ccld.ca.gov.

The information is intended to help individuals and families learn more about a facility they might be considering. It is important not to rely on this information alone to make a decision. Always visit facilities in person to ensure that it meets your, your friend, or family member’s needs. You may find the Resident Rights in a Residential Care Facility Checklist on page 28 to be of help. Also, check with the local Long-Term Care Ombudsman Office at (415) 473-7446 for a free consultation about long-term care facility options in Marin County.

If you have a problem with the facility that is not resolved with the owner/manager, contact Community Care Licensing at 10 Golf Course Drive, Rohnert Park, CA 94928 or call (707) 588-5026. You may also email complaints to: LetUsNo@dss.ca.gov.

“I use this phone number almost every day as well as the website! I’m thinking of having both tattoo’d to my left wrist… that’s how much I love this phone number as a resource!”

-Christine Shaw
Equal Employment Specialist

“When I reached out, I got an immediate response; they gave me resources to help my mom. I got a follow up call and an email. There was so much effort, people were so kind. The experience was very positive and rewarding.”

-Adriana Brown
San Rafael resident

A resource specialist is standing by Monday -Friday, 8:30am-5:00pm.
