Or individuals can talk to a legislature about an idea they have and generate a bill that way. • It must be introduced and published for 30 days before it can get assigned to a committee. This is where the first hearing is after it is held for 4 days with the committee. Bills are read a second and third time. They vote to accept or reject the bill before sending it to the House or Senate floor. • If the House or Senate vote and pass the bill, it goes to the other house. Both houses have to agree on the same version of the final bill before it goes to the governor. • If both houses approve a bill, it then goes to the Governor. The Governor has three choices. The Governor can sign the bill into law, allow it to become law without his or her signature, or veto it. A governor's veto can be overridden by two thirds vote in both houses. • Bills that are passed by the Legislature and approved by the Governor are assigned a chapter number by the Secretary of State. These Chaptered Bills then become part of the California Codes.
